In Memoriam

The Presbyterian Hospital Society, at its Annual Meeting on May 7, 1947, adopted the following resolution as presented by the Board of Managers:

The death of Charles Barnett Goodspeed—stalwart and beloved citizen of Chicago and honored President and benefactor of Presbyterian Hospital—closed a career distinguished by service to country and helpfulness to his fellowmen.

Born in Cleveland, Ohio—moving with his parents to Columbus where he spent his boyhood years, educated at Asheville School and at Cornell University—Mr. Goodspeed came to Chicago as a young man to represent the Buckeye Steel Castings Company founded by his father. Several years thereafter, in 1916, his marriage to Miss Elizabeth Fuller, bound him further to Chicago and, save for the period that he spent overseas as a soldier in World War I, his residence in this city was continuous for the rest of his life.

The full meaning of the term “public spirited citizen” belonged to Mr. Goodspeed in rare degree. His sense of civic responsibility was equalled only by his fund of personal kindness and benevolence. Impelled by these attributes, he began early to adjust the administration of his business to free more and more of his time and energy for the advancement of education and culture and community welfare. In consequence and despite his modesty and his efforts to avoid the spotlight in whatever he did, he found himself in a position of growing leadership in various undertakings for the common good.

Throughout the heaviest period of the depression from 1930 to 1932, he served as Vice-Chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission. In 1933 his strong antipathy to the New Deal moved him to accept a call from the Republican National Committee to become its Assistant Treasurer and later Treasurer and, during seven active years in these capacities, he not only successfully financed all campaign demands but through his fearless advocacy of what he believed to be right and sound, he exerted a major influence, both locally and nationally, in the shaping of party policy and administration. Soon after his relinquishment of this post in 1941 he became President of Presbyterian Hospital—a service in which he carried on until his death. These were all exacting responsibilities but, nevertheless, in the midst of them he found time also to act as Trustee of the University of Chicago; of Asheville School; Fourth Presbyterian Church; Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society; the Art Institute; and the Symphony Orchestral Association of Chicago. His business directorates included the City National Bank and Trust Company and Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company.

Of the many causes championed by this great humanitarian, that of Presbyterian Hospital unquestionably became closest to his heart. He was elected a member of its Board of Managers in 1931, its Vice-President in 1936 and its President in 1942. No institution has had finer leadership. He spent the greater part of each day there—devoting himself tirelessly to the exploration and development of every idea that might improve technique and facilities; visiting with and bringing cheer and comfort to patients; abetting the welfare and needs of the staff and especially of its lowliest members; giving liberally but unobtrusively of his personal means to rehabilitate a floor or equip a department or provide some other improvement that could not, at the time, be financed within the Hospital's own budget. His driving ambition was to keep Presbyterian, with its honored traditions and accomplishments, unsurpassed among hospitals and, convinced that a new building program was a necessity of the near future, his last months were concentrated upon formulating plans to such an end. All of these services he performed simply and with no thought or wish for acclaim. They were labors of love—dedicated to the care and healing of the sick—labors that he carried on with unflagging zeal even after his own failing health compelled him to move from his ground floor hospital office to an upstairs bed. And when finally released from his last suffering, no flag at half mast ever more truly symbolized mourning of an esteemed and beloved leader, than the one that the employees asked be flown at Presbyterian.

Commensurate with his appreciation of all that was elevating in human nature and beneficial to human kind, was Barney Goodspeed's capacity for friendship in all walks of life. His charming personality, his sense of humor and particularly his infectious laugh, his gentility, and his universal kindness endeared him to all who knew him. His death has cast a heavy shadow on Presbyterian Hospital but though his presence is no more, his influence and his example will remain bright for all time.

In memory of this great and good man and of his life's work, the Board of Managers recommends that this minute be spread on the permanent record of Presbyterian Hospital and that an engrossed copy be sent to his widow.

1946 Service Record Sets New Highs

A comprehensive review of the first full year of peacetime operations of the Hospital reveals a continued upward trend in service rendered to the sick, injured and newborn. Measured in terms of patient days' care and in number of births, three new records in the history of the hospital were established in 1946. Days of care given to patients during the year totaled 149,340—an average daily census of 409, which compares with the previous high of 388 set in 1945. The other all-time highs were admissions totaling 13,931 which included 1,596 newborn infants, both totals being the highest in the history of the Hospital. The figure for newborn infants compares with 1,186 in 1945.

Although there was a continued shortage of personnel in some departments, the Board of Managers recognizes in this expansion of service the extra load which all have carried, and wishes in this way to record its appreciation to the employees, student nurses, house staff, and volunteers for their contribution to the care of their fellow-men.

Throughout the year, and despite the constant demand for beds for private patients, the Hospital continued to care for a daily average of 29 free patients not including those financed by other agencies. Most of these free patients were admitted from Central Free Dispensary, Outpatient Department of the Hospital. This division of the Hospital along with the support of the Rush Medical properties for teaching and research and the support of free beds accounted for an expenditure of $151,438.53, which amount was met out of Endowment income, contributions from churches, the Woman's Board, and individuals.

The care rendered and the support given by the Community Fund and the care purchased by other agencies for their clients are not shown as free work. With the unusually high occupancy the financial operations in 1946 resulted in an excess of income over expenditures of $52,603.09, of which $50,000 was used to liquidate deficits of previous years, leaving $2,603.09 to be added to surplus. In the operating results no charge for depreciation of buildings is included, with the Hospital being dependent upon special contributions for major repairs and replacements.

During the year $94,368.53 was added to Endowment Funds, making a total of $6,158,660.38 on December 31, 1946.

New funds include the beginning of the Asa S. Bacon Memorial Nurse Fund by the Woman's Board to honor the memory of Mr. Bacon, who for so many years served the Hospital as superintendent. The purpose of the fund, of which the Hospital has four other such endowments, is to render free special nurse care to persons who could not otherwise afford it. The care which will thus be given will be a fitting and continuous memorial to something in which Mr. Bacon was always deeply interested.

Grove House, formerly operated as a home for convalescents, was liquidated in 1946, and $5,000 was given to the Hospital for which a bed known as "The Grove House" bed has been named in perpetuity.

There was added to the Child's Free Bed Fund $4,473.61 during the year, which completed the thirteenth "Cheer Up Bed" on the Children's Floor. This is largely collected through the Sunday Schools of the Presbyterian Churches, and the income from the fund is used to support the free work among children. The Hospital is most grateful for the continued interest on the part of the Sunday Schools in this work.

The list of additions to the Endowment Fund in 1946 follows:

		$94,368.53

It is difficult to indicate the many ways in which the Woman's Board continues its support of the Hospital. From a financial standpoint $58,916.80 was contributed during the year to the work of the Hospital and the Dispensary. Another important function is that of keeping the various churches, through the Board members, acquainted with the activities of the Hospital. Included elsewhere in this Annual Report is a section on the important work of the Woman's Board.

Central Free Dispensary, the Outpatient Department of the Presbyterian Hospital, rendered a high standard of medical care contributed by the staff to 3,751 new patients, as compared with 3,408 in the previous year. Of the total visits of 68,201, 54.3% were free in the sense that the patient himself made no payment. Through the continued generous support of the Community Fund and the deficit financed by the Hospital, this much-needed community service is made possible.

The School of Nursing is gradually returning to its peacetime quota of students, although from the standpoint of national health needs all schools could well have continued the large classes that there were enrolled under the United States Cadet Nurse Corps. As of the end of the year 1946 there were 239 students in training.

In keeping with the need for providing additional training for doctors whose intern and resident training was interrupted due to war service, the Hospital is currently carrying a house staff of 63, which compares with 45 in the years prior to the war.

We regret to record the death of one medical staff member during 1946. Dr. John Favill, chairman of the Department of Neuropsychiatry, passed away on December 21, 1946. He had been a member of the medical staff since 1936.

TEACHING AND RESEARCH PROGRAM IS ENLARGED

Since January 1, 1946, with the appointment of Dr. George M. Hass as the new Chairman of the Department of Pathology, and Dr. Douglas A. MacFadyen, as new Chairman of the Department of Biochemistry, the Hospital has greatly enlarged its teaching and research program in the Hospital and in the Rush Medical College buildings, which are leased to the Hospital. In the Senn Building the new quarters of the Department of Anatomy have been almost completed and the new Animal Hospital is functioning as a very vital asset of the new research program. Extensive remodeling and installation of furniture and equipment has been in progress for over a year and in spite of many delays it is expected that these new facilities will be near completion or at least partly available in the summer of 1947.

This enlarged program has been made possible through the continued support received from the Otho S. A. Sprague Memorial Institute, the Endowment income from the estates of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Dean Bevan, gifts from Mr. William Kidston, and through other special or anonymous gifts for designated purposes. During the year the funds available for this purpose amounted to $215,662.03. The disbursements of research funds are approved by the Board of Managers of the Hospital upon recommendation of the Research and Education Committee. This Committee has broad representation within the Medical Staff, the Board of Managers, a representative of the Rush Medical College Trustees, and the Dean of the University of Illinois College of Medicine. In spite of the many difficulties during this period of construction, 29 research projects have been developed and are supported by grants-in-aid which have been approved. Additions of full-time men to the Departments of Biochemistry and Pathology are planned.

The aggressive activity in research is being made by the younger men under the supervision of their various counsellors and co-workers on the Hospital staff. It is expected that the intern staff of 28 and the resident staff of 35 persons, total 63, will become an increasingly active nucleus in the entire research and education program. It is hoped that the younger doctors who are with us for several years in the development of their specialties will merit graduate degrees for the successful completion of research.

The undergraduate teaching program of the Hospital concerns 24 clerks in the surgical wards, 12 clerks in the medical wards, four clerks in the Department of Pediatrics, and four clerks in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology. These latter gentlemen are housed in the buildings of the Hospital and are in that department continuously for six-week periods. Amphitheatre clinics are held on Wednesdays and Fridays in the North Amphitheatre of Senn Hall and many formal lectures are given within the departments for the benefit of the students of the various departments.

The Presbyterian Hospital was founded by Rush Medical College. The spirit of education and investigation has been a part of its tradition through all of its history. We expect our Hospital of the future to not only be worthy of its history but to make a very real contribution in the fulfillment of its ancient tradition, "Dedicated to the quest of knowledge, to relieve suffering, and to prolong life."

Woman's Board Activities - 1946

The Woman's Board of the Presbyterian Hospital completed a very successful year of service to the Hospital in many departments. Our aim is to cooperate with the management, to answer any call that will serve the Hospital, to stimulate interest and gain friends through our many contacts in the churches and throughout the city and suburbs.

This past year our total receipts were $64,454.64. Including some funds from the previous year we have added $40,757.63 to endowments, the largest amounts having been for the Bacon Memorial Nurse, Grove House Bed, and Child's Free Bed Funds. We also contributed $3,055.00 for current expenditure in the Children's Department. From our General fund, for support of the Library, for drugs, etc. for several clinics, linen for the Maternity Floor and other purposes, we spent $12,742.43. Included in the latter sum was $3,811.33 contributed to the Diabetic, Hematology, and Gynecological Clinics for insulin, blood transfusions, special appliances, and drugs for which patients were unable to pay.

We have continued our interest in the Library and now have plans for increasing its service to the Hospital as a center of culture and relaxation by donating a radio-phonograph to provide musical programs for ambulatory patients at certain hours. Our Delicacies Committee collected 2,542 glasses of jellies and jams, despite the sugar shortage, and our Sewing Committee turned in 1,570 garments this year.

One of our very special interests is the care of children, as evidenced by our Babies' Alumni Fund, the free care given children through our participation in Tag Day and the Child's Free Bed Fund, and by adding to the Parmelee Fund for Research in Pediatrics.

Worthy of special mention in this report is the formation of a very active Winnetka Auxiliary to our Woman's Board, which meets once a month and will allocate 50% of its funds raised by an annual benefit to the Woman's Board for distribution and 50% to a special Winnetka project for the Hospital. This year the project is a Teen-Agers Ward for girls.

We are always interested in the School of Nursing and during 1946 contributed $435.92 for various purposes, including books for the School Library and accessories for the sun room.

The Volunteer program has been revived in response to an urgent need and we are endeavoring in every possible way to fulfill this obligation. We hope that our shop on the first floor will continue not only to be a source of revenue but also will prove of value as a convenient service to personnel, staff members, visitors, and patients.

We were saddened by the death in 1946 of five members who had given many years of service to the work of the Board. We pay tribute to the memory of: Miss Isabella Brennan, Miss Lucibel Dunham, Mrs. George R. Nichols, Mrs. Frank Penfield and Mrs. T. J. Thompson.
